James 1:13-18

I was born to be a new _____ of _____.

I'm not who God made me to be if I'm _____ to listen,

and _____ to speak or become angry. (vv. 19-20)

As the Word of God takes root in my life, I become a redemptive

_____ and _____ to the world. (v.21)

The Bible is a _____ to show me who I am and where the Father desires to _____ me. (vv. 22-25)

Bottom Line

I am made to live an authentic, integrated life of _____ — the creeds I believe — and _____ — the deeds I do.

Monday

READ: James 1:18

REFLECT: When we decided to follow Christ, we were reborn to be a new kind of human. Who God wants us to be is completely different than other humans who do not have this same relationship with him. Rather than using this new identity as a source of pride, we can use it to motivate us to serve others.

RESPOND: Can you describe what a new kind of human looks like from God's perspective? Are you growing in this identity or have you stalled in this growth?

Tuesday

READ: James 1:19-20

REFLECT: Many times we may be quick to speak, slow to listen, and quick to anger. However, when we do so, we are not living out our identity as new humans in Christ. We are acting like those who do not know God intimately.

RESPOND: What has your speech in the last few days said about what kind of human you are? How is your speech different from those who do not know Christ?

Wednesday

READ: James 1:21; Luke 6:45

REFLECT: When we root our minds and hearts in God's Word, our tongue will follow. We will use our words to build up instead of tear down. In doing so, we will demonstrate how different we are from the world.

RESPOND: What controls your tongue more? God's Word or your old sin nature? How does rooting God's Word in your heart change how you speak?

Thursday

READ: James 1:22-25

REFLECT: It can be very easy to deceive ourselves into thinking we are something we are not. However, nothing reveals who we actually are more than God's Word. While it serves as a mirror, his Word also serves as a light which directs us toward God's will and his transformation of us.

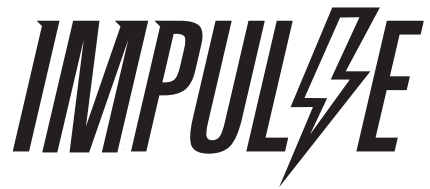

RESPOND: Is there a disconnect between your ears (what you hear in God's Word) and your hands and feet (what you do in response to God's Word)? If so, how can you close the gap?

Friday

READ: James 1:26-27

REFLECT: The way we control our tongue and serve the "distressed" determines whether or not we are living out our identity as new humans in Christ. We are made to live a life of faith that is both authentic and integrated throughout every segment of our lives. In other words, our mouth, hands and feet can determine the nature of our heart.

RESPOND: Take some time and reflect upon how you used your speech this week. Ask God to transform your heart and speech so that it glorifies him.

Marriage Enrichment and Transformation

MONDAYS | AUGUST 2 - NOVEMBER 22

Whether you're looking for a little enrichment or for total transformation, ReEngage is for you. We invite you to come along on a 16-week journey to rediscover the heart of your spouse and the deeper purposes of marriage. During these weeks, we'll examine God's design for marriage and learn biblical principles that have the power to heal our hearts and to transform our most intimate relationships. We'll hear encouraging stories from others who have experienced victory in the midst of hard times. And we'll have opportunity to interact with other couples in a small group as we work through the curriculum together. We encourage you to be part of the upcoming ReEngage, and take your next step toward a stronger, healthier marriage.
