Monday

READ: John 21:15-23

REFLECT: When we've failed, we can depend on God's character. Rather than staying in the boat because he was ashamed of his failure, Peter jumped out and swam toward Jesus. Peter knew that Jesus' forgiveness was based on God's character. He knew that Jesus was going to welcome him with compassion and love despite his past.

RESPOND: How do you respond to spiritual failure? Do you find yourself running from or to God? Why do you think this is so?

Tuesday

READ: Psalm 34:4-5

REFLECT: David is confident that those who look to the Lord will not be "covered with shame." We are often tempted to look away from God when we experience failure. We are afraid of his condemnation and shame. However, this passage reminds us that God gives us hope and abundant life when we look to him.

RESPOND: Think of a time when you experienced shame because of something you did. How did you respond to others and God? Did fear or God's love drive this response?

Wednesday

READ: Romans 8:1

REFLECT: Jesus provides freedom for us to live without guilt and condemnation. Because Jesus' blood covers us, God views us through the lens of forgiveness and grace. When others try to condemn us for our sin, we must remind ourselves that we are "in Christ" and, therefore, do not have to live our lives in bondage to others' opinions of us.

RESPOND: Do the opinions of others dictate how you live your life? How should God's forgiveness cause you to live? Think of how you might live your life without condemnation.

Thursday

READ: Proverbs 11:2; 1 Peter 5:6

REFLECT: Peter learned firsthand that pride leads to disgrace. Peter tells us to humble ourselves and let God exalt us if and when he wants to. Many people today exalt themselves and, unfortunately have to learn the hard lesson of being humbled by God.

RESPOND: Have you ever been humbled by God? How did it feel? How can you humble yourself in the present moment so you can truly experience God and his wisdom?

Friday

READ: Jeremiah 29:11; Romans 8:28

REFLECT: These two well-known passages offer every believer a promise. This promise is God's best for us throughout our lives. At times, God's best may be difficult to understand or see. But, when we are going through difficult circumstances, we can have faith in the future God wants to provide.

RESPOND: Do you believe these passages apply to you? If not, ask God to give you the faith needed to believe them. Ask him to give you hope that he will fulfill his promises.
